

BMW 2000 CS

1967 BMW 2000 CS powered by the 2.0L 4 Cylinder engine producing 135 bhp
The BMW New Class was a line of sedans and coupes produced by German automaker BMW between 1962 and 1972. These models ensured BMW's solvency after the company's financial crisis of the 1950s and established the identity of BMW automobiles as sports sedans. In 1965, the 2000 C and 2000 CS luxury coupés were added to the range. Replacement of the New Class models began with the larger 2000 C and 2000 CS coupés, which were replaced by the 6-cylinder E9 2800 CS in 1969. The BMW 2000 CS is the sporty brother of the 2000C (automatic). This fully restored example has a revised matching numbers 2.0 liter engine. With increased compression and double Solex carburetors producing 135 hp and 4-speed manual gearbox. The 2000 CS has a top speed of 185 kph, which is more than enough. She was delivered new to the Netherlands in 1967, where she stayed until 2016 when she was acquired by a Belgian collector. According to her history there has only been one owner change in the Netherlands in 1972. This means that there have only been 3 owners since 1967. During her lifetime she has only driven a mere 93057 kilometers which can be confirmed by the condition in which she was acquired in 2016. From her history it is clear that she was cherished as someone's pride and joy.

During her nut and bolt restoration she was refinished in her original shade of red. A very stylish colour, even to this day. You will not easily come across another BMW 2000 CS which has been restored to this standard. Every corner of her has been professionally painted and restored. The engine bay looks better than the day in which she left the factory. To finish off her look, she has been fitted with the very exclusive Borrani wire wheels. Inside you will find an equally as amazing interior. Her black leather seats were retrimmed with the finest materials and her dashboard has been refinished to accentuate that amazing piece of design. You will also notice a full wooden steering wheel which was added to improve the driving wheel as well as lifting the interior to a higher level. Mechanically she is so new that she has barely been run in. Every mechanical component of this 2000 CS was restored to the highest quality. She runs and drives like the day she rolled off the production line. The only upgrade that was done is electronic ignition by 123Ignition. Her engine runs beautifully and pulls strongly. Her gearbox is a smooth shifting example that you will enjoy for many years to come.

If you are looking for a perfect and immaculate BMW 2000CS with a documented history then look no further. This example ticks all of the boxes and will be a proud part of your collection. So what are you waiting for? Get in touch for a test drive. But we will warn you that you will fall in love...
