

MERCEDES 280 SL - PAGODE

Nicely restored "metallic gold" 1969 Mercedes 280 SL Pagode with beautiful matching light brown interior. Equipped with the famous and very reliable M130 engine. A six in line SOHC engine with 2778 cc and Bosch fuel injection. In this configuration good for 170 hp. Attached to a 4 speed automatic transmission and disc brakes on all four wheels.

The W113 is a 2 seat roadster/coupe with an optional slightly concave hardtop, which inspired the "Pagode" nickname. The 280SL has a comparatively short and wide chassis, excellent suspension and powerful brakes which gave the W113 superb handling for its time. The bonnet, trunklid, door skins and tonneau cover were made of aluminum to reduce weight.

This particular example has been restored in all details. It was recently imported out of the State of California. The car comes with original tools and jack. The engine gives you enough performance to use it as an everyday car. And for a good reason. The driving dynamics are sporting enough even for a 45 year old car. It looks beautiful, it is easy to use and gives you enough luxury to remain comfortable. And like any Mercedes from that era, its build quality is immaculate.

And that is why they can be considered as a driveable classic, as well as a collectable investment. If you want more information please contact our sales team.
