

LANCIA DELTA INTEGRALE

1989 Lancia Delta HF Integrale 8V – Restored with Passion, Driven by Legend

This is not just a car. It is a living piece of motorsport history, revived with precision and care. Offered here is a 1989 Lancia Delta HF Integrale 8V — a machine that once ruled the rally stages of the world and continues to stir the souls of drivers and collectors alike. Born in the final year of 8-valve production, this particular example marks the end of the original Integrale era, before the 16V variant arrived. It's a celebration of purity — light, balanced, and brutally effective.

The engine has been completely revised, retaining its legendary 2.0L turbocharged character while gaining renewed responsiveness and reliability. Every moving part was treated with respect, ensuring performance worthy of its badge. The gearbox, too, has been rebuilt and re-tuned to shift cleanly, offering tight and confident engagement through every gear. The unmistakable four-wheel-drive system channels power to the road with the relentless traction that made this car a legend in any weather.

Its bodywork tells a similar story of reverence and restoration. The lines are crisp, the iconic box arches proudly intact. From the paint finish to the trim detailing. This Delta is neither over-restored nor modernized — it remains authentic, sharp, and unmistakably Italian.

Inside, the cabin has been fully reconditioned to recapture the feel of late-80s performance. The Evo 2 seats are supportive and clean, the dashboard unspoiled and original, and every touchpoint speaks to a car built for drivers. There are no gimmicks — just the purposeful simplicity of a car
