

PORSCHE 968 CLUB SPORT

As perfect "Guards Red" 1993 Porsche 968 Club Sport with matching black-red interior. The Recaro fixed back bucket seats are color coded to the exterior of the car. Power comes from the bulletproof and torquey 3.0 liter - 4 in line - 16 valve engine producing 240 hp and attached to a smooth 6 speed manual gearbox. And a beautiful set of matching 17 inch Cup style alloys.

The 968 Club Sport was lighter and cheaper than the standard version. A stripped down track weapon. A proper no nonsense drivers car. One of the greatest ever built. All extras such as sunroof were removed. The standard seats were replaced by hip-lugging race inspired Recaros while the rear bench was removed altogether. And with a perfect weight distribution and outstanding chassis the car saw dramatic improvements to the handling and overall performance. And it is still a very limited edition Porsche (1923 built).

This particular low mileage example was originally delivered to Japan. In 2006 it was imported into Dubai and exported to Belgium in 2009. This non sunroof 968 CS does have the hard to find combination of M030 sport package and M220 Limited Slip Differential. Which is extremely rare across all markets. And because it was built for the Japanese market the car has air conditioning and electric windows. Most of the cars that do not exist with both (M030/M220) options are retro fitted but original factory cars are uncommon. The actual reading on the odometer says 48.250 km since new.

The car comes with a full set of Belgian documents including carpas, certificate of conformity and all original 968 CS books. Documentation and press articles. And also the original Japanese lights.

Ready to register.

The 968 CS is a great track day companion and is considered to be a sleeping giant within the collector community. The 968 CS is tipped for great things in the future, as enthusiasts realize how truly fantastic they are to drive. With the large 3.0 liter engine boasting 240 hp, pushing hard and combined with the light weight (1320 kg) and the silky 6 speed gearbox. It feels as precise now as it did 23 years ago. An unique opportunity.
